

THIS MONTH...

98 How correct body angles will boost your consistency

101 Putt better with a drill to stabilise the lower half

106 Jaco Van Zyl's tips on finding the fairway

TECHNIQUE

Make a few practice swings before hitting to ensure you feel the correct rotation. Remember the goal is not to swing the club hard left, just the body.

PITCH WITH LESS OF AN ARM ACTION

→ ON SUCH A SHORT shot, the tendency among amateurs when pitching is to steer the ball toward the flag with the arms. This is an inconsistent method and will often result in mis-hits.

As a drill, place two canes in the ground about two yards to the left of your ball-to-target line. Concentrate on turning your body to face the gap between the canes in your finish. This ensures you commit to rotating through the shot, staying on top of the ball and helping you to pitch more accurately. Check out another great pitching drill from Gareth Johnston on page 104.

WHAT YOU WILL ACHIEVE
THIS MONTH

→ THREE DIFFERENT WAYS TO BUILD POWER MORE EFFORTLESSLY P102

→ JUMP IN TO A BETTER POSTURE AND IMPROVE YOUR CONSISTENCY P105

→ BANISH YOUR BUNKER BLUES WITH OUR PRICELESS SIX RULES P109